The Purpose of Leadership Development

This document outlines the process of clergy credentialing for those seeking to serve as ordained ministers in ADOC, under the canons of the Anglican Church in North America. The clergy credentialing process seeks to discern in the life of those seeking ordination the calling, competence, and character necessary for the work to which they have been called. At the same time, it upholds the trust of the community by ensuring that individuals called to ministry are properly equipped for ordained leadership in the church. This process is intended to be constructive for the postulant and for the community in which they serve.

Becoming a Deacon

ADOC recognizes the Order of Deacons as a “full and equal order” of ordained ministry. The Diocese also recognizes that candidates for ordained ministry enter the process at different points in their lives and ministries. Therefore, this process takes into account, as much as possible, both the office to which an individual is being called as well as the past experience of the candidate.

ADOC is committed to providing its churches with competent clergy of high moral character. With this goal in mind, the ordination process does not simply seek to complete certain steps, but rather to equip men and women for ordained ministry. This process exists to prepare ordinands for ministry by providing them with theological foundations, spiritual formation, and practical skills.

ADOC is especially committed to identifying and equipping those ordinands called to be church planters. Ordinands who indicate an interest in church planting will undergo a separate church planter assessment. [Information available from the Diocesan Office.]

As a safeguard to our parishioners and the integrity of ADOC, the Diocese requires a background check, physical, spiritual, psychological, and marriage assessments, and sexual abuse prevention training. These costs are to be borne by the candidate and his/her sponsoring church.

Deacon Aspirancy Phase

1. Membership in a ADOC church for one year: An aspirant will be an active confirmed member of a parish for a minimum of one year. During this time, the aspirant comes to know the local church and becomes known by its parishioners and the local clergy. Confirmation or Reception: During the Aspirancy Phase, the aspirant, if not already confirmed, will need to be confirmed as an Anglican. If the aspirant has been confirmed in another tradition by a bishop in succession, the aspirant will need to be formally received into the Anglican Church.
2. Interview with Rector and Letter of Recommendation: The aspirant and the rector will discuss the possibility of beginning the ordination process. The process formally begins when the rector sends a one page letter of recommendation to the bishop(s), indicating support for the aspirant to enter the ordination process, including reflection on the aspirant’s leadership and theological development. The letter of recommendation should also include the first and last name of the aspirant, as well as their date of birth, current email address, cell phone number, and mailing address.
3. Parish Discernment: Once the rector’s recommendation has been submitted, the aspirant may begin parish discernment. A Parish Discernment Committee is made up of 6-8 people from the local church who know the aspirant personally and have experienced the aspirant in the context of service and ministry. A chairperson should be nominated to chair meetings. A summary of the committee’s findings and recommendations should be sent to the Diocesan Office. Further instructions and guidelines are provided in appendix D of this Credentialing Guide.

4. Application: After recommendation by the Parish Discernment Committee, the aspirant submits to the Diocesan Office an application form for ordination. The aspirant can obtain the application on the ADOC website, or in appendix A of this Credentialing Guide.

The Aspirancy Phase cannot continue until all of the above has been completed and submitted to the ADOC Diocesan Office.*

5. Intake Interview: Once all application materials have been submitted, the aspirant schedules an intake interview with the Suffragan Bishop. To schedule an interview, contact Bishop Bryan (dbryan@adoc.church). This meeting will formalize the ordination process.
6. Background Check: Once the Intake Interview has been completed, a background check is initiated.
7. Wellness Assessment: Once the background check has been processed, the aspirant completes a physical exam, a psychological evaluation, and a marriage assessment (if applicable). It is the desire of ADOC to see that each applicant for Holy Orders possesses the physical, spiritual and psychological health necessary to serve and thrive as an ordained deacon or priest.
8. Regional Discernment: Once wellness assessment reports have been received, the aspirant will be interviewed by a regional team of clergy. The purpose of this meeting is to discern and confirm the aspirant's calling to ordained ministry. The regional team will submit a report of their findings and recommendations to the Diocesan Office.
9. Personal History Questionnaire: After completing the regional discernment process, the aspirant will complete the Personal History Questionnaire and send it directly to the bishop. (see Appendix H)
10. Interview with Bishop: After the Personal History Questionnaire has been submitted to the Bishop, the Diocesan Office will arrange for the aspirant to meet with the bishop, who will review the aspirant's entire packet of information and will conduct an open ended interview with the aspirant.
11. Episcopal Approval for Deacon Postulancy: Upon completion of all of the above, the bishop will review the aspirant's file and make a decision concerning his/her fitness to enter the Postulancy Phase.

During the Aspirancy Phase:*

- Send Ember Letters to the Bishop: Throughout the ordination process, aspirants are required to write ember letters to their bishop. The dates for these letters are fixed by the church year: The week between the 3rd and 4th weeks in Advent, between the 1st and 2nd weeks in Lent, the week between Pentecost and Trinity Sunday, and the week after Holy Cross. Ember letters can be mailed to the Diocesan Office, or emailed to nbryan@adoc.church.

Deacon Postulancy Phase

1. Sexual Abuse Prevention Training: After Episcopal approval for the Postulancy Phase has been given, the postulant will complete the Ministry Safe and KOST (Keeping Our Sacred Trust) courses.
 - a. Ministry Safe: you will receive an email from Ministry Safe, providing you with instructions and a link to take the course and quiz. Upon completion of the quiz, the Diocesan Office will be notified automatically.
 - b. KOST: email Nancy Bryan (nbryan@adoc.church) to request your KOST login code. When ready to take the course, visit www.keepingoursacredtrust.org and click on "Enroll." Then enter your login code under "Prepaid group member" and follow the instructions. Please budget up to 3 hours for completion of this course. Upon completion the Diocesan Office will be notified automatically.

2. Spiritual Health Assessment: Video conference with Bishop Thad Barnum (schedule online via call2disciple.com).
3. Exam Readiness Review: At this point in the process a representative of the Examining Chaplains reviews with the postulant his or her readiness to take ordination exams, identifying any need for additional reading and study, or training, prior to taking the exams.
4. Exam Date Request: Once any additional reading, study, and/or training have been completed the postulant may request a date to take the exams from the Diocesan Office.
5. Examinations: Once a date for the exams has been given, the written and oral exams may be taken. The exams will be carefully graded by the Examining Chaplains and results will be returned within three weeks.
6. Episcopal Approval for Deacon Candidacy: Upon the successful completion of the exams, The Diocesan Office will arrange for the postulant to have a final interview with the bishop, who may then approve the Postulant for Candidacy.

Deacon Candidacy

1. Setting the Ordination Date: The Diocesan Office will work with the bishop to set dates for all ordinations.
2. Ordination: While every effort will be made to accommodate the candidate's needs, it may be necessary for the candidate to travel for their ordination. On the day of the ordination, the new deacon will sign all of the ordination documents in duplicate.
3. Document Return: After the ordination, the hosting rector will ensure all signed ordination documents are returned to the Diocesan Office.

Priest Postulancy

For those Deacons seeking ordination to the Priesthood, there are several further steps in the formation process.*

1. Priestly Formation Plan: The Deacon's Rector will coordinate with the Diocesan Office to develop a plan to address areas of further growth needed prior to ordination. The Priestly Formation Plan will include ways to address ongoing Anglican theological, spiritual, and pastoral formation within the life of the local church depending on the needs of the postulant.
2. Diaconal Ministry: Each deacon will normally serve in the parish for one year before ordination as a Priest.
3. Rector Recommendation: Once the requirements of the Priestly Formation Plan have been satisfied, the rector will write the supervising bishop explaining why he is recommending him/her for the priesthood based on his experience of the postulant as a deacon in the local church. The template to be used for this letter is Appendix E in this Credentialing Guide.
4. Final Interview with the Bishop and approval for Priest Candidacy: After the details of the priestly formation plan are satisfied, the Diocesan Office will arrange for the postulant to have a final interview with the bishop, after which, the bishop will make a decision on the ordination.

Priest Candidacy

1. Setting the Ordination Date: Once the priestly candidate is approved for ordination, the bishop will work with the candidate on scheduling an appropriate date for the ordination.
2. Ordination: Every effort will be made for priestly ordinations to take place in the parish in which the candidate is serving. Only in extreme circumstances will the candidate have to travel for priestly ordinations.
3. Documentation Return: After the ordination, the hosting rector will ensure all signed ordination documents are returned to the Diocesan Office.

The purpose of the Pre-Ordination Medical Evaluation process is to assess the physical health of ordination applicants.

II. Process

1. The candidate for ordination identifies a licensed medical doctor and makes an appointment.
2. Prior to the appointment, the candidate for ordination (and spouse, if applicable) signs a release (attached) to allow the doctor to share his or her evaluation with the Diocesan Office.
3. The candidate meets with the doctor.

Your work in assessing the candidate is part of the overall process of discerning the candidate's preparedness for ordination.

At the appointment, please provide the candidate for ordination with a release waiver to sign so that you might share your written, confidential evaluation with the Diocese of The Carolinas (a recommended waiver template accompanies this letter).

In addition, we ask that you please complete the attached Medical Evaluation Form and have your office mail it directly to:

Psychological & Marital Evaluation

I. Purpose

The purpose of the Pre-Ordination Psychological & Marital Evaluation process is to assess the psychological and marital health (if married) of ordination applicants.

II. Process

1. The Rector helps identify an approved licensed Christian counselor and the candidate makes an appointment with this counselor.
2. Prior to the appointment, the candidate for ordination provides the counselor with ADOC Guidelines for Assessment (below).
3. Prior to the appointment, the candidate for ordination (and spouse, if applicable) signs a release (attached) to allow the counselor to share his or her evaluation with the ADOC Leadership Development Team.
4. The candidate (and spouse, if applicable) meets with the counselor.
5. The counselor provides a written evaluation to ADOC.
6. The candidate or the sponsoring church is responsible to compensate the counselor for these services.

Dear Counselor,

N. is a candidate for ordination in the Diocese of The Carolinas, a diocese of the Anglican Church of North America. You are being asked to provide a basic psychological evaluation for N., and, if married, a marital health assessment for N. and spouse. The candidate will arrange payment for services with you or your office directly in advance of the counseling session.

As a part of the ordination process, each candidate undergoes an evaluation by a licensed Christian counselor or other qualified mental health professional who can provide an assessment of the candidate's mental, emotional, and marital health as it relates to the vocational demands of ordained pastoral ministry. Your work in assessing the candidate is part of the overall process of discerning the candidate's preparedness for ordination.

Please provide a basic evaluation based on the following areas:

- Mental health history
- Family mental health history
- Emotional maturity
- Interpersonal functioning
- Level of self-awareness
- Adaptability
- Sexual behavior
- Marital health

In addition to a comprehensive interview with the candidate and spouse, you may wish to administer a personality inventory (e.g., MBTI), marriage inventory (e.g., Prepare/Enrich) or other instrument ahead of the counseling session. At your discretion, some candidates may require more than one session. At a minimum, we ask that you spend no less than 1.5 hours with a non-married candidate, and no less than 2.5 hours with a married candidate, including 1 hour with the candidate and spouse.

Prior to your first meeting, please provide the candidate for ordination (and spouse, if applicable) with a release waiver to sign so that you might share your written, confidential evaluation with the candidate's bishop and the Diocese of The Carolinas. (a recommended waiver template accompanies this letter.) Upon conclusion of the interview process, please provide a brief written evaluation to the email address below based on the areas mentioned above along with answers to the following questions:

1. Do you have any concerns or do you foresee any issues that would potentially disqualify this person from ordained pastoral ministry?
2. In your estimation, what do you believe is the candidate's ability to respond to the emotional challenges inherent in the work of ordained ministry?
3. If the candidate is married, how would you describe the couple's marital health?

THE DIOCESE OF
THE CAROLINAS

Parish Discernment Process

To those seeking ordination Scripture lists certain qualifications (1 Timothy 3.1-16 and Titus 1.5-9) that should be noticeably present in the life of the inquirer. Particularly, they should be sound in the faith. They should have an ability to communicate the Gospel, teach and disciple others in the faith. Their lives should reflect holiness and discipline which brings honor to Christ and which causes them to be well thought of by those outside the Church. They should demonstrate wisdom and discretion. There should be visible fruit of their faith as well as a public affirmation by their local congregation of their sense of call.

All inquirers will begin their discernment process in conversation with their rector. If, after conversation with the rector, the rector believes that there is good basis for the inquiring candidate to further explore and test their sense of call the rector will convene a parish discernment committee. The role of the parish discernment committee is to further test the individual's call and to present, if appropriate, to the rector and vestry, a person whom they believe called to the ordained ministry.

Parishes of the Diocese of the Carolinas may wish to consider the establishment of a standing parish discernment committee that works with the rector to discern the call of all inquirers. In any case, the parish discernment committee should be composed of 5-8 persons. The rector may wish to include a vestry person as a member of the discernment committee. The committee will need a chairperson and a recorder. N.B., because of the importance of the work undertaken by the parish discernment committee the rector may wish to involve himself in the discernment process until such time he believes the committee comfortable and capable of work. Additionally, the rector in consultation with the bishop may supplement the below discernment process to address local or individual concerns.

It should be made clear that this is an exploration and a process of discernment. The committee must create a climate for honest conversation, genuine care and, of course, confidentiality is expected.

Finally, the inquirer should prepare and present a 10-minute biblical reflection at the beginning of each meeting, including the first meeting. The texts for the five meetings are:

- First meeting, 2 Timothy 3.16-17
- Second meeting, John 3.16
- Third meeting, Ephesians 2.8-9
- Fourth meeting, Hebrews 4.15
- Fifth meeting, 1 Corinthians 10.31

Meeting #1

This should be an introductory meeting in which the priest introduces the inquirer and, if married, his/her spouse to the parish discernment committee. The following elements should be a part of this first meeting:

1. The rector should both introduce the inquirer, spouse, and parish discernment participants to each other. He should give an overview of the discernment process giving particular attention to our Anglican understanding of ordination as well as the role and responsibility of the parish discernment

- committee.
2. Exploration vs. inquisition - get a clear understanding of the difference. (Some of the questions asked throughout this process may seem intrusive, but are a necessary part of the process).
 3. Discuss any questions about the exploration process.
 4. Arrange a schedule of meetings so that all participants are able to be present.
 5. Have the inquirer prepare a Spiritual Autobiography, of not more than 10 pages, to be distributed at least 3 days prior to the next meeting. The guidelines for the Spiritual Autobiography are delineated in the diocesan application materials.

Meeting # 2

At this meeting, the inquirer should verbally present their Spiritual Autobiography.

1. The committee should be listening for the inquirer's ability to clearly articulate their conversion to Christ and a simple presentation of the Gospel.
2. Based on the Spiritual Autobiography the following questions might be helpful to stimulate discussion:
 - In what ways has Christ shown Himself sufficient in this person's life?
 - What challenges has the inquirer faced? What challenges currently exist in this person's life? How does their faith inform their understanding of these challenges?
 - How does he/she respond to pressure?
 - What ministry experiences have they had? How have those experiences shaped their understanding of the Christian faith?
 - What ministries are they currently involved in? What joys and challenges are presented by those ministries?
 - How does he/she tie together the "secular and sacred" realms of life?

Meeting # 3

The following dimensions of calling are to be explored:

- 1) What is the inquirer's understanding of the Christian ministry?
 - How does he/she view the ministry of the whole Body of Christ?
 - How does he/she differentiate between the ministries of lay and ordained persons?
 - What is pastoral care?
 - Why do they believe that they are called to be ordained?
- 2) What further growth is needed and does this person have the capacity to achieve such growth?
 - What is his/her academic record?
 - What evidence is there of his/her continuing commitment to learning and intellectual growth?
- 3) In what ways do you see/experience the person as one who is growing in the Christian faith?
 - How well does he/she understand the basics of the Christian faith (BCP pp. 845- 862)? Of Anglicanism (BCP 867-876)?

Meeting # 4

This meeting is used to explore aspects of the inquirer's emotional health, relationships and leadership capabilities. The spouse should be present at this meeting as well.

The following questions will assist the group:

1. Have the inquirer describe their family life - family of origin as well as their current family situation. What joys and sorrows emerge? How does he/she deal with family conflict? Did he/she come from a divorced family? How did he/she process the emotional disruption of divorce? How are his/her relationships with their parents, siblings, spouse, children?
2. Have the inquirer describe his/her relational life with their friends, neighbors, classmates, colleagues. Is it easy or difficult for him/her to make friends? Does he/she have a mixture of old and new friends? Does the inquirer have any perception about how he/she is perceived by others?
3. Would the inquirer identify himself/herself as a “feeler” or a “thinker”? How are his/her thoughts and feelings expressed in a family, ministry, school or work setting?
4. Has he/she ever sought personal or marital counseling? For what matters? In what ways did counseling benefit the inquirer? What did he/she learn about himself/herself, and their spouse if applicable?
5. If married, then invite the spouse to be involved in the above discussions.
6. Additionally, it might be helpful to have them recount their courtship, their marriage and their family life. What difficulties have they faced? What joys can they articulate?
7. What challenges do they face? How did the decision to explore ordination arise? What are their spouse’s thoughts and concerns regarding the possibility of ordination? Is she/he supportive?
8. The following will assist the group in exploring the person’s capacity for leadership:
 1. Has the inquirer ever led someone to Christ? Have they personally disciplined anyone? Give examples.
 2. How has the person exercised leadership? How does he/she motivate others? Can he/she give any examples?
 3. Is the inquirer able to identify a variety of leadership styles? Can he/she verbalize their preferred leadership style? Can he/she identify circumstances that challenge them as a leader?
 4. How does he/she function in a small group setting? In a large group setting? Amongst peers?
 5. What positive experiences has the inquirer had with those in positions of leadership? What negative experiences has he/she had with those in positions of leadership?
 6. Does the inquirer evidence leadership in in school, work, or church settings? How?
 7. Can the inquirer identify personal/professional failures? How did he/she, practically, handle those failures? What insights were learned from those failures? What leadership skills were developed in response to their failure(s)?

Meeting # 5

This meeting will focus on whether the inquirer is called by God to the ordained ministry. The following questions will aid the group:

1. Is the person confusing a calling to Christian ministry with a calling to ordination?
2. Are his/her primary interests congruent with the basic function of an ordained person?
3. Are his/her innate abilities commensurate with the demands of the ordained ministry?

While asking the questions and listening to the answers the discernment committee should consider whether they can envision this person as a priest in the church? Can they envision this person as their priest?

A Meeting of the Parish Discernment Committee

This meeting is for the committee only. The committee will decide if they wish to recommend the inquirer to the rector. Broadly speaking, the committee will want to evaluate the inquirer with respect to the following categories:

- Character (is the fruit of conversion evidenced in their life?)
- Charism (do they evidence gifting for the ordained ministry?)
- Calling (can they articulate a sense of call? Do you discern a call?)
- Capacity (do they evidence the capabilities necessary for ordained ministry?)
- Competency (do they evidence skills/intellect necessary for ordained ministry?)

In addition to the interactions and questions of the previous weeks the committee may find the following evaluative questions as well:

1. How aware is the person of his/her own feelings?
2. How well, and in what ways, does the person express strong positive and negative feelings?
3. When dealing with feelings, do physical gestures and movements (body language) match the words spoken?
4. To what extent is the person aware of and comfortable with his/her own sexuality? How well integrated is his/her sexual identity with other aspects of life?
5. Are there any indications that the person aspires to the ordained ministry as a way of solving his/her personal or vocational problems/disappointments?
6. Does the person have a level of maturity and ability to adapt that is commensurate with his/her age level?
7. Does he/she show initiative, self-confidence and enthusiasm?

Concluding Meeting with the Rector

A written summary of the discernment committee's work and decision will be presented to the inquirer and to the rector. If the inquirer is recommended by the parish discernment committee and the rector the summary report will advance to the vestry for their final approval. The rector may find it helpful for the inquirer to appear at a vestry meeting for a time of conversation. If the inquirer is endorsed by both the rector and the vestry a copy of the application, the summary of the parish discernment committee, along with the vestry's statement of support, will be submitted to the bishop.

If the discernment committee feels that the person should not proceed with the process, it will be necessary for some members of the committee and the rector to assist the person to discover and engage in a challenging, satisfying, form of lay ministry in his/her areas of gifting.

ADOC Regional Discernment Interview Guidelines

Dear Clergy Interviewers,

Thank you for being willing to serve as part of the credentialing process for our diocese by interviewing our current aspirants. We value the wisdom and experience in ordained ministry that you bring to this task of discernment. The purpose of diocese interviews is for you, the clergy interviewers, to engage with the aspirant through his/her written materials, and interpersonally in the interview, to assess and then articulate your sense of the aspirant's calling to ordained ministry.

Prior to meeting with the aspirant or reading his/her materials, we encourage you to pray with confidence for God to guide. For centuries, the Church has discovered the Holy Spirit is pleased to move through properly ordered, communal discernment processes. Our hope is that the grace of God will be at work in this process to both build up the Body of Christ with ordained leaders and edify the aspirant with a clearer sense of his/her vocation.

It will be helpful to this process to read through the aspirant's documentation before the interview and discuss with one another the perceived strengths of each aspirant. For example, what are the gifts evident in the aspirant based on reading his/her materials? It will then be equally important to note together, prior to the interview, perceived weaknesses or any gaps in the documentation (i.e. areas where you need more information to form a clearer vision of the aspirant's theology, ministry role, or commitment to Christ).

Approach the network interview prayerfully, with a posture to work in tandem with the Holy Spirit and your interview partner toward the goals of clarity and unity in your understanding of the aspirant's calling to ordained ministry. While you should be cordial and generous, this is more than a friendly visit to get acquainted with one another. There is important work to do in a short amount of time. On the next page, there are some potential questions to help guide your discussions.

Note that in every good interview there are two levels of listening which need to be going on simultaneously by the clergy interviewers. The first level is listening to the direct answers given to the questions being asked. The second level is listening for indirect but revealing insights which may reveal the character and competence of the aspirant (e.g. body language, anger, or distance).

Two weeks after the interview (or sooner), you will need to provide the ADOC Diocesan Office with one report that contains your shared perceptions of the aspirant, including your affirmations of gifts/calling, your concerns, and your suggestions for addressing those concerns. If there are clear concerns, give the aspirant concrete suggestions for growth. In the end, you need to be able to offer some variation of the following:

- We believe there is a clear calling on N's life for ordained ministry in the Body of Christ, particularly in the realm of _____ (offer any suggestions you may have about a context for the aspirant's ministry, where might be a good fit, urban? suburban? rural? campus? etc). To that end, we affirm his/her desire and sense of calling, and we commend him/her on in the discernment process.

- We affirm N's gifts and his/her current role in ministry. We sense that ordination is important for him/her to fulfill his/her call in the Body of Christ. We commend him/her on to local parish discernment committees and the care of his/her bishop and priest as he/she seeks further clarification.
- We encourage N to resolve the concerns we identified in the suggested ways before continuing his/her pursuit of ordination to the diaconate.

Thank you again for serving the Church, our diocese, and these aspirants in this way. May God bless your interviews!
